The Savage ranch is offered for sale.

Aitken is doing good work with his sprinkler.

The weather continues perfect, neither hot nor cold.

T. K. Stewart left yesterday morning for Fort Bidwell.

The Harris-Boxall affair at Alturas, still smells pretty loud.

Sierra Valley is said now to have over a hundred flowing artesian wells.

Bishop Whitaker is in the eastern part of the State, visiting the various Parishes.

Sarah Winnemucca's school is to be reinforced by the addition of a Boston school marm.

The annual Fair of the Lyon County Agricultural Association promises to be very successful this year.

An ambitious young man took a swim in the river Thursday. He says the water was rather e-c-c-old.

Clear your premises, in front and in rear, and all around. Hot days are, and disease may be coming.

Tickets to the entertainment of Miss Laura Griffith, the elocutionist, can be had at Brookins' or at the Postoffice.

The funeral of the late Lucin Cox will take place from Sanders' undertaking rooms this afternoon at two o'clock.

Smith & Waggoner have two vegetable wagons doing the town now, being unable to reach all their customers with one.

The growing grain in Paradise Valley is looking well. As there is plenty of water for irrigating purposes, the dry weather does not effect it.

The story is revived that the repeating office and the quadruplex instruments are to be removed from Virginia City to Reno by the 1st of July.

Reno never looks so well to a person as when he has been away for a while to the Bay and returns tired with seeing nothing but bricks and mortar.

Wednesday E. Reinhardt & Co., of Winnemucca, shipped 29,916 pounds of concentrated ore, from the Paradise Valley Co.'s mines to Argo, Colorado.

The regular Saturday night dance of Walter Hastings will be held at the Theater this evening, and there will be a larger crowd there than usual. Admission 50 cents.

The laundry is doing fine work now and is able to do it with the greatest promptitude. Transient guests at the hotels can be accommodated almost immediately if not sooner.

The citizens generally of Reno seem to be taking more than the usual interest in their houses this Spring. All seem to be doing something to beautify and improve their homes.

Mr. Piper is negotiating with Lawrence Barrett, who will undoubtedly play in Virginia City on the 7th, 8th and 9th of next month, skipping both Reno and Carson. Why is this John?

The Carson Appeal says another interesting discovery has been made on the Western slope of Mt Davidson by the aid of Prof. Norra's divining rod. He located a $100 ledge within an inch of where it was.

Read the new ad of Manning & Jaques. They are pioneers in Reno, having put all they have ever made in the town, built themselves nice homes, and are here to stay. Besides this their stock of hardware is complete and of the best material.

Nearly 100 seats have already been engaged for Cotton & Birch's Minstrels, which are expected to play here on the 8th of June. This is the troupe with which Dickie Jose is singing, and this advance sale of seats proves that Dick will receive an ovation when he returns to his home.

FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY FOR JUNE, 1886, opens with a very vivid sketch of the statesman who at this moment rivets public attention—William Ewart Gladstone—grappling boldly with a problem which for a century has taxed the intellectual powers of the leading men in power in England—a government for Ireland which shall insure the well-being of the people and retain the island as a contented part of the British Empire. We see him here, drawn in pen and pencil, in public life and in his loved home at Hawarden. A. S. Rawson, well known as an authority on Oriental matters, carries us, with his description and drawings, into the tents of the Arabs to hear "A Bedouin Tribal Poetess." In "Frank Buckland and his Friends," we have a lifelike portrait of that most interesting and most eccentric of naturalists and a more entertaining sketch cannot easily be found. "A Sail to the Azores" takes us to once famous islands that our tourists might well visit. Miss Lily Higgin describes "The South Kensington Museum," which has done so much to create and foster true artistic taste in England. "Old Stage-coach Days" are brought vividly before us in a sketch by De Long. In these pleasant days, when the shade of trees is so grateful, we can appreciate the talk with A. S. Fuller on "Forests and Forestry," and learn from his accurate and thorough knowledge how, when and what to plant, that the next generation may bless us. "The migration of animals and birds" finds a student in Mr. J. Duns. All the articles savor of the pleasant Summer Days; the stories—by Mrs. M. A. Dennison, Jane Fay Alston, Charles Howard Shinn, Annie J. Duffell, and others—make this number a charming one to read at home, or traveling, or stretched in breezy shade.

MEMORIAL DAY.—Memorial services will be held at Reno on Saturday, May 23rd, under the auspices of O. M. Mitchell Post, No. 69, and a general invitation is extended to Comrades and citizens of Reno and other portions of the county to attend. There will be a procession, formed of members of the Post, Reno Guard, Knights of Pythias, school children and citizens generally, which will move to the cemeteries, where there will be literary exercises, good music, etc. There will be also the usual beautiful ceremony of decorating the graves of those who have gone before. As the day is a legal holiday there is no doubt but many will attend on the occasion. In a few days the regular programme of exercises will be issued, when it will be given publication.

DECORATION DAY.—The Committee of Arrangements for Decoration Day take the liberty of appointing the following ladies as a committee to solicit flowers for the occasion, and to take the charge of working them up into wreaths etc., on the morning of the 29th at Armory Hall. Mrs. Jaques, Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Leete, Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Taylor.

The Committee also says that if any persons having flowers to donate will leave their names at Nasby's they will be sent for at the proper time.

M. LOUIS PASTEUR.—The Journal acknowledges the receipt, through Paik, Davis & Co., of a copy of Messrs. Root & Tinker's engraving of the eminent French savant, M. Louis Pasteur, whose signal services to science and medicine render him one of the noblest figures among the benefactors of mankind. As a work of art, the engraving is up to the usual standard of excellence attained by Root & Tinker.

MISS GRIFFITH IN RENO.—We notice that Miss Laura B. Griffith, the talented and versatile reader of the choice gems of our literature and an elocutionist of more than average ability whose efforts a large audience of our citizens have had an opportunity of appreciating is about to give an entertainment at Carson City on the 28th of May and also at Reno before that date. The public of these cities would do well to go and laugh and grow fat.—Austin Revue.

This lady will give one of her select entertainments here on next Monday evening in Armory Hall.

M. B. Curtis was not greeted with as large a house as his talent and troupe warranted owing to the deluge of shows during the past few weeks. He is immense.

LITERARY TREAT.—The following is the programme of Miss Griffith, the elocutionist, who will favor the lovers of fine reading with one of her pleasing entertainments at Armory Hall on Monday evening. She will be assisted by some of our home talent, including the Reno Guard Band:

According to the Truckee Republican a secret combination has been formed among certain heavy employers in that section to reduce the wages of laboring men below even the minimum allowed the Chinese. In fact, it is stated that a resolution has been passed by them that no man will be employed by them who has taken part in the anti-Chinese cause.

The consignment of fat cattle arrived at the Chicago stock-yards yesterday from Reno. On their way they passed through Utah, Wyoming, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois, arriving in good condition. St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.): The Senate has taken action upon over 2,100 of the President's nominations, and barely six have been rejected. This does not signify, of course, that all the nominations confirmed were good and strictly proper ones; but it does show very clearly that the Republican majority of the Senate is not so much disposed to prevent Democrats from getting offices as the latter would like to have the country believe.
